Oratect III

Easy, No-mess Collection Procedure

Collecting a saliva specimen is as easy as placing a lollipop in the mouth. The subject rubs the inside of the cheeks to stimulate saliva flow with the saliva collection pad built into the end of the Oratect III, then holds the device under the tongue until the saliva flow is visible in the results window. The collection process takes only a few minutes for most people.

Detects More Marijuana Users

Only the parent THC molecule remains in the mouth after smoking marijuana. Because the Oratect III detects the parent THC molecule at low concentrations the Oratect III is more likely to detect a marijuana user.

Observed Collections Reduce Cheating

Because the subject collects the saliva in the presence of the operator every collection is an "Observed" collection. This virtually eliminates the problems of specimen adulteration and substitution common to urine drug testing. Saliva testing also eliminates the same-gender requirement for observed urine drug testing.

EASE OF USE

Step 1
Gently rub collection pad inside mouth on each cheek and bottom of tongue.

Step 2
Place collection pad underneath the tongue until saliva flow is visible in results window.

Step 3
Remove from mouth and lay on flat surface. Read results in three minutes.
